

Winter Camp/Retreat Packing List

We are looking forward to seeing you this winter!

Wintertime at Table in the Wilderness, situated at an elevation of 8250', is oftentimes windy with average highs in the 30s and lows in the 10s. With that in mind, we would like to give you the following packing list of what to bring to make your stay as comfortable as possible.

- Bible, Notebook, Pen
- Water Bottle
- Shower Towel
- Pillow
- Sleeping Bag
- Toiletries
- Sunscreen
- Warm clothing to layer
- Winter gloves
- Winter hat/stocking cap
- Winter boots/regular tennis shoes
- Goggles/Sunglasses
- Waterproofed pants, jeans, or ski pants
- Wrist guards (for snowboarders)
- Synthetic, warm socks for skiing
- Plus all the regular clothing to wear during downtime

Additional notes:

Each Table in the Wilderness cabin is equipped with fully functional toilet, shower, and heater. While all cabins include a queen-size bed (with a fitted sheet) and bunkbeds with small mattress pads, there is no bedding supplied so sleeping bags and pillows are essential. Towels for drying off after a shower or playing in the snow are also essential. If someone forgets or doesn't have any of these items, Table in the Wilderness has a small inventory of items that we would love to share.

For skiing or tubing, clothing made from synthetic (not cotton) fibers are better as they can still insulate when they get wet. Winter clothing made of cotton is not a good idea. Also, layered clothing, under ski pants/jacket, work well to keep you warm.
